REGARD DAWES' SPEECH AS PRESIDENCY GESTURE

Conference Criticisms Food for Speculation Among Washington Politicians

Washington Aug 8—Vice President Dawes criticism of the Geneva Pan Pacific Naval Conference in his speech at the dedication of the International Peace Bridge between the United States and Canada caused considerable speculation today among the capitals political circles.

It was given a "let us alone" interpretation because in view of President Coolidge's "I do not choose to run for presidential statement Dawes is considered a leading candidate for the Republican nomination in 1928.

Private advices from the speech cited interest of Dawes for doing the unexpected as a move in a possible bid for the presidency.

Dawes and Coolidge have been at odds frequently on public questions and now Dawes has espoused the defense which the president hoped to make one of the crowning achievements of his administration.

Dawes said the Geneva conference was lacking in the preparation required to make it a success. He described a naval holiday race between the United States and Great Britain as "an imbecile

CITY COUNCIL TO VIEW PLAN OF WORKHOUSE

Proposal Expected To Receive Support of Municipal Legislators

APPROVED BY COUNTY

Dayton Institution No Longer Able To Take Prisoners from Here

The plan to establish a workhouse in Marion is to be submitted to city council at its meeting tonight with prospects of council supporting the project.

This was indicated today when City Solicitor George I Geran called at the office of the county commissioners and ascertained that the board is interested in the proposal and stands ready to do its part in working out some definite plan.

Developments in the workhouse negotiations have come rapidly since the proposal for establishing an institution of that kind here was first suggested *about a week ago by Prosecuting At*torney Frank Wiedemann. The prosecutor expects to meet the commissioners this week and discuss the project.

Puzzling Problem

Both the county and the city are confronted with a puzzling problem as the result of having received a notice announcing that the Dayton workhouse in the future will accept no prisoners from outside. Montgomery Township up to this time prisoners from Marion county have been sent to the Dayton institution.

The county and city must now send a workhouse in some city other than Dayton where local law violators may be sent or else establish a workhouse here. The latter plan is favored and will probably be worked out if some way of financing it can be devised, officials have indicated.

Seen Difficulty

It is regarded as probable that difficulty would be experienced in arranging for accommodations at a workhouse in another city. All penal institutions in the state are overcrowded and are not in a position to take on additional contracts, investigation has shown.

Reports from nearby counties state that their prisoners would be sent to Marion should a workhouse be established here have provided substantial support for the local project.

After being informed by the commissioners today that they are giving the workhouse proposal serious consideration City Solicitor Geran said that he would present the matter to council.

William E. Stull, 62, St. James-st, Found Dead in Field from Bullet Wound in Head; Despondency Ascribed as Cause

Funeral arrangements for William E Stull 62, of 201 St James st well known Marion resident and janitor of the North Main Street School who ended his life with a revolver in a field west of Lincoln Park, sometime Saturday were completed today.

Services for the church of the Nazarene will be held at 1 30 o'clock at the residence and 2 o'clock at Calvary Evangelical Church Tuesday afternoon. Rev C L Allen, pastor of the church will officiate and burial will be in Marion Cemetery.

Mr Stull was found near a tree in the field just west of Lincoln Park about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon by Abe A Miller 558 Park st as he was taking a walk through the field. The body was removed to the Hess Markert & Axe Funeral Home and was identified about one hour by relatives and friends.

Ascribe Despondency

Despondency over ill health was given by friends and relatives today for Stull's act. He has been suffering from stomach trouble and other ailments for a number of years. The bullet from a 32 caliber revolver which was found by his side entered his head on the left side near the base of the skull and came out at the top of his head above his temple.

Mr Stull left his home about 5 o'clock Saturday morning apparently for a walk uptown, according to his family. His relatives became worried when he did not return in the middle of the afternoon and started a search for him. W A Mickley manager of the Logan Gas Co and a neighbor of Stull on St James st was the first to identify him. It is not known to his family where Mr Stull obtained the revolver.

Coroner R D Osborn gave the verdict of suicide. He believes that the shot was fired sometime early in the day.

Born in Morrow County

Mr Stull was born in Morrow County July 6 1865 and has been a resident of Marion nearly all of his life.

Columbus Aug 8—Considering the failure of his efforts to bring about a settlement of the strike of union miners in the central competitive field Governor A A Donahey of Ohio today abandoned his efforts because of the refusal of the coal operators to enter a conference.

INTEREST LAGS WITH PRIMARY ONE DAY AWAY

Balloting May Drop to 10 Per Cent of Registered Strength, Claim

CONTESTS LACKING

Registration Saturday Above Expectations of Election Board Officials

Although practically all Marion citizens are aware that a primary is to be held here and in other cities throughout the state Tuesday for the purpose of nominating municipal candidates for the fall election a very small percentage of the electorate appears to be displaying an interest in the event.

Five votes Tuesday is expected to be one of the lightest ever cast at a primary here. In fact, it would be no surprise if the total number of ballots should establish a record in that respect. Candidates party organization leaders and others conversant with the situation predict that the vote may not run more than 10 per cent of the number of voters registered. Usually the primary vote averages about 25 per cent.

Basis for Forecast

Basis for this forecast is found in the record of absent voters ballots, which show that only seven had been filed with the board of elections when the time limit was reached this morning. Two years ago, prior to the municipal primary, a total of 509 absent voters ballots had been cast. These ballots come from persons who are unable to be in the city on the day of the primary.

In spite of the apparent lack of interest, which is due chiefly to the fact that there are only three contests scheduled for Tuesday's primary, registration of voters Saturday was larger than had been anticipated A. B. Kreis, clerk of the board of elections, said this morning that estimates indicate there were more than 100 registrations at the various voting places, which were open Saturday to register transfers and new voters.

No definite figures were available on the registration this morning, due to the fact that precinct officials are not required to report until tonight.

9,000 in 1925

Two years ago the primary vote totaled about 2,500. This was larger than usual, both Republican and Democratic having lively contests for the mayoralty nomination. In this years

Dessau, Germany Aug 8— Johann Risztics and Cornelius Edzard, who hope to hop off for New York in a Junkers plane this week were busy today testing new life belts, and the tests were made in a bathtub.

Correspondents who* have arrived here have remarked at the similarity in appearance between Risztics and Colonel Lindbergh, the German being of the same blonde type.

Charles A. Levine today wired congratulations to the two flyers on their having broken the endurance flight record.

Fog banks prevented test flights early today, but it is hoped that flights may be made later in the day.

REFERENDUM PETITION WILL HALT MARSHALL LAW

Operation of Measure on Liquor Jurisdiction To Be Delayed

Columbus Aug 8—Operation of the Marshall Bill which tomorrow would restore to justices of the peace and village mayors the right to try liquor cases by meeting the legal objections pointed out by the United States Supreme Court, will today be postponed when State Senators George H. Bender Cleveland, and Nile F. Johnson, Youngstown are to file their referendum petition.

Bender and Johnson, engaged in a last minute check of the petition before filing it with Secretary of State Clarence Brown, announced that the petition bears more than 100,000 signatures, although the legal requirement is but 64,000.

Bender and Johnson, also declared that to meet further requirements of the law, they had obtained more than three per cent of the signatures in 44 of Ohio's 88 counties.

Bender's oft heard declaration against the bill was that: "Justices of the peace and their henchmen are preparing to launch a reign of terror upon the people of Ohio, beginning Aug. 9, the date the Marshall Bill would be made effective."

Two Federal Men Killed in Rum Runner Battle; Weapons are Ice Picks, Wrenches

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 — A hand-to-hand battle, with ice picks and monkey wrenches as weapons, resulted in the death of two federal agents and the wounding of a half a dozen coast guard operatives and rum runners yesterday 40 miles off Fort Lauderdale, Fla. according to reports today to the treasury department.

The battle broke when the coast guard cutter U S 249 pulled up beside the rum laden craft from the Bahamas Boatswain Sanderlin, commander of the cutter, boarded the rum boat and ordered the pilot house to take command. He was shot in the back and died before members of his crew could remove the fleeting craft. Only two men were aboard the rum boat.

During the running fire of the chase, a bullet from the rumrunner craft pierced the chest of Coast Service Operative Robert E. Webster, a passenger on the cutter enroute to the Bahamas to investigate a counterfeiting band whose operations have flooded Florida with spurious $20 bills.

Overtaken the rum craft again after a half hour chase, the coast guard crew boarded in mass formation, with ice picks, monkey wrenches, and even guns for their weapons. A ghastly free-for-all resulted in the capture of the rum

SPORT SAUCE

BY EDDIE SCHOFIELD

WITH only one more regularly scheduled game and a couple of postponed affairs to be played the teams still are in the running for the title of the Commercial League Play are the Eagles Steam Shovel Office and Kiwanis

We pick the Eagles

The Eagles shut out the Steam Shovels 5 to 0 Friday night and showed great form in turning in the victory The win gave them a tie with the Shovel office but two more games remain to be played

And that's where the Kiwanis come in The Eagles and Shovels must meet the Kiwanis who are in second place and eying for the pennant before they close the season And the Kiwanis has another game with the K of P's In other words if the Kiwanis defeat the Eagles and Shovels and win their other game no team in the league can prevent them from at least tieing for first

But the Eagles are playing the most consistent ball and show no signs of weakening They should defeat the Stars and Kiwanis without a great deal of trouble But whether the Shovels can down the Kiwanis and the Koppers remains to be seen And I like to see what will happen when they play off the tie with the Eagles Unless something goes radically wrong with the Eagles they're due for the pennant

ALL the other leagues with the exception of the second Sunday school loop are tied up and decided The Erie Office has the Association pennant under its arm ready to go into the Little World Series Calvary No 1 is all set after conquering the best of 'em in the first Sunday School League The Steam Shovel will be represented for certain by the Industrial League team

BUT what about this second Sunday school group?

Trinity Baptists are already raising the question of whether or not they will get to enter the Little World Series this year or must play it off with Calvary No 1 to see who gets in Calvary No 1 is not at all anxious that they can trim Calvary No 2 in the final game Tuesday night and enter the title

While the Baptists should not have the slightest trouble in downing the weak Calvary No 2 team there is a possibility that two things may stop them First overconfidence on their part or second determination on the part of Calvary

Calvary has pulled out of last place by winning a few games during the second round and has gained more pep than it had during the first of the season Again it's a case of everything to win and nothing to lose If Calvary defeats Trinity it will be the talk of the town next Wednesday morning If Trinity defeats Calvary nothing will be said It won't even be considered an honor to trim Calvary while to beat Trinity places the winner in high esteem of recreational ball circles

Shortstop Scores Winning Run in Tenth Inning on Brashears' Single; Athletics Hit and Field Well; Main Allows 11 Hits

BY EDDIE SCHOFIELD
Sports Editor The Star

PLAYING both of baseball against one of the best semi-pro clubs in Ohio the Marion Athletics yesterday raised out Lima in the opening game of a 10 inning battle on the Lima diamond

After Lima had tied up the count at 4 to 4 by scoring two runs in the ninth Marion came to bat in the first of the tenth to end it all The winning run came when Rizor after reaching second on a double crossed the plate as Dick Brashears long single Rizor's hit was single into a two bagger Lima went down one two three order in the last of the tenth

It was a game of gamers played before a crowd of more than 1 000 persons including at least 75 local fans who followed the team to the scene of the clash Those 75 still are telling the world that Marion has a baseball team to be proud of and a shortstop that can't be beat

Rizor's Day

Rizor had a perfect day in the shortstop position He handled seven chances without a falter secured four hits out of five times at bat and scored two of the five runs Next to him came Rowan who also connected for four hits out of five trips to the plate and scored two runs Rowan's hits were all home

Bacon landed his batting average with three hits out of five chances while Price although not so good with the stick played a splendid game in centerfield pulling down seven hard chances Dick Brashears also stepped to the limelight by connecting for a hit in the pinch one of them being the time winning single in the tenth

Briefly told the Marion Athletics yesterday played their best game of the season against their toughest opponent of the year with the possible exception of the Toledo Ohio Motors It was not a one man team It was a perfect fielding and batting machine with every cog fitting and running smoothly

Got 15 Hits

Main pitching for Marion allowed 11 hits but kept them well scattered He went the entire trip on the mound while Lima called upon a relief man in the tenth frame Westhay started the game on the slab for Lima allowing 7 hits in nine innings His successor Berry gave two binkies in the last frame While the local collected 15 hits they left 12 men stranded on the sacks during the 10 innings

Lima scored first when Lois crossed the plate in the last of the second after Marion had lost a wonderful opportunity to count one in its turn at bat in that frame Donaldson was perched on third and Rizor on second with no one down but Reese succumbed Westhay to Leis Blake took care of Brashears foul and Main struck out

Marion retaliated for Lima's lone counter however in its next trip to bat Two hits sandwiched in with a stolen base a fielder's choice and an error paved the way for the locals first two runs in the third innings With one down Rowan scratched a hit to Marquardt who stood he and tried to make the slow grounder into a force Rowan stole second and scored on Bacon's single Bacon took second when Scully attempted to nab Rizor at home and advanced to third on Price's grounder to Leis Donaldson shot a grounder at Fisher Lima shortstop who juggled it long enough for Rey to reach first and Bacon to cross the plate Rizor fouled out to Leis ending the side

Lima Ties Score

Lima again came through in the fifth but was then held scoreless until the tenth frame when it tied the count at 4 to 4 after Marion's one run in the eighth and Lima's one counter in the first of the eighth and ninth stanzas

The tenth frame was the 21 innings in which the Athletics batted but well Blanke led off for Lima with a double to left Hurl a batting for Westhay fired by Price but Ollie Klepfer former Ohio State star crashed a liner in the front of the plate advancing Blanke to third Blanke scored and Klepfer went to second when Main threw the ball over Conroy's head Main's next single failed to hit a whistling liner out of Buckland's reach scoring Leis Marquardt went to second as Reese threw to home in an attempt to catch Klepfer Price made a neat catch of Wildermuth's fly and Reese speared Sandvoller's liner but in right retiring the side after the damage had been done

Marion's run in the eighth came when with one in Rizor singled and scored on Reese's double In the ninth Rowan banted safely with two away and scored when Rizor slammed out a hard double against the right field wall

Rizor Scores

Rizor led off in the tenth with a double Reese struck out and Rizor stepped scoring Rizor with the short singled scoring Rizor with the winning tally Brush for Main caught at second for the second out and Lima was thrown out at first on the next play retiring the side In the last of the tenth Leis of Lima flied out to Price Scully struck out and Michael batting for Fisher popped one to Brashears for the third and final out

Reg Donaldson was again back at the Athletics yesterday He started the game at second with Bacon replacing Conroy at first Conroy went back into the game in the seventh and Donaldson was benched Neither Conroy or Donaldson succeeded in getting a hit

One of the features of the game came in the ninth inning when Rizor Marion shortstop went four feet into the air and came down with Scully's teaming liner which had two souls marked on it Scully in the previous had made a great catch of Buckland's long drive in left after completing the ball at first

"5c? IMPOSSIBLE!"

It's True, Nevertheless, That a Good Cigar is Being Sold at That Price. Skeptics Being Converted Daily

No matter what you think of five cent cigars in general, read the news about this one A five-cent piece will decide all arguments as to whether a good cigar can be made to sell at 5c One five-cent piece! Any smoking man can afford that much to get the low down.

Take your nickel to your favorite cigar counter and ask for Havana Ribbon. Judge it as you would a higher priced cigar. See how it holds up in flavor, aroma, body, the satisfying quality of ripe tobacco You'd never believe such a cigar could be made to sell at five cents

There are good reasons Havana Ribbon, sold at more for years Smokers flocked to the cigar because of its quality, not its cost So we cut the price and improved the cigar No wonder it sells by the million! Don't be afraid of Havana Ribbon because it costs so little Try just one and you're all set on this smoke for life

Watt Merchant cut loose for Morral was the outstanding star [illegible] collected five hits out of five times to the plate Lowe got two singles

Two innings of a protested game were played previous to the regular one Marion beat Morral 4 to 2 in the opening game at Lincoln Park several weeks ago and Morral protested saying the game should have gone nine innings The extra two innings were played with the result remaining the same

Strictly a "one purpose" tobacco for pipes and nothing else

TOBACCOS which are made both for rolling cigarettes and for pipes are cut fine . . . you might say they are fine for cigarettes but too fine for pipes. For the finer the cut, the faster (and hotter) it burns.

Granger Tobacco, cut for pipes only, and mellowed by an old-time tobacco secret . . .

burns more slowly lasts longer and smokes cooler

A WORD ABOUT LOADING YOUR PIPE Instead of pouring Granger as you would a granulated cut, put in a third of a pipeful, pat it down firmly, then another third, then heaping full Light around the edges as well as in the middle . . and you'll get for a long, cool smoke . .

KONJOLA ENDED STOMACH AND KIDNEY TROUBLE

Marion Lady Had Suffered 8 Years Before She Got The New Compound.

One of the latest well known residents of this city who is strongly indorsing the new Konjola is Mrs Nancy Sweger, Ruth Avenue, Marion. Her statement about the work of this celebrated medical compound was given just a few days ago to the Konjola Man, who is meeting large crowds in person each day at the Stamp Pharmacy, 121 South Main St, Marion, and explaining Konjola:

MRS. NANCY SWEGER

"I have but one thought in mind in giving Konjola my indorsement," said Mrs Sweger, "and that is the good it will do others who are suffering I found out about this medicine myself by reading the statements of other people, as I feel it is my own duty to indorse such a remedy.

"I had been suffering 8 years with stomach and kidney troubles before I got Konjola The food I ate seemed to gauge around in my stomach like a sharp rock, and caused the most terrible pains anyone ever suffered. Large quantities of gas would form in my system, and bloat me up so that I could hardly breathe. The kidney trouble caused backaches, and night rising 2 or 3 times This broke up my rest, and I was always tired and worn-out thru the day. Many times I had to lie down and rest.

"I had some faith in Konjola because everybody spoke so well of this medicine, but I had no idea when I started taking it that it would bring a great change over my whole system. Why, it is a positive fact that my stomach and kidney troubles are ended so completely that I am feeling like I never had a sick day in my life. I am free of backaches and night rising, and my food is digesting perfectly. My appetite is increased, and I always feel good from the time I get up until I go to bed at night. I never think of resting during the day. I don't have the nasty, haggard look in my face any more, and it seems like my whole appearance is changed.

"It certainly is wonderful to find a medicine like Konjola, and as I said, I feel that it is my duty to indorse such a remedy to others."

The Konjola Man is at the Stamp Pharmacy, (Stump and Stamp), 121 South Main Street, Marion, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Konjola is now being sold by all of the good druggists in every nearby town of this whole section.—Adv.

REV. C. L. ALLEN GIVES SERMON AT UNION RITES

Calvary Evangelical Church Pastor Preaches in Presbyterian Edifice

Unless we go a little farther than the near by we will fail to accomplish [illegible] declared Rev C L Allen in one of the Calvary Evangelical services at First Presbyterian Church Sunday

Reverend Allen's text was "Go along a little further" He used for an example of his sermon topic how Jesus Christ felt the great crisis of his life and went a little further than his disciples in the garden of Gethsemane before He died on the cross

Christ going a little far her in the garden after His disciples had stayed behind meant four things for Him stated Rev Allen

Going a little farther into the garden meant for him not a place of separation from the world and men for the sake of fighting out His great battle His second purpose meant that he was going to a place of preceding prayer and in this act He settled the great crisis of His life

Thirdly His action meant going into a place of surrendered will He prayed that it might be possible that the cup might pass from Him but He said Not My will but Thine be done And lastly His going into the garden meant placing Himself in complete communion to His God God gave Christ a great task to perform when He came into this world and that was to save men from sin

Mrs B J Wallace gave the feature number of the musical program with a solo I Will Lift Up Mine Eyes The number was given in response to several requests

Congressional Committee Faces Painting Problem

What Two Great Historical Events Will Go in Small Space?

BY CHARLES P STEWART

WASHINGTON Aug 8—The [illegible] committee which [illegible] the [illegible] building is up against a tough [illegible]

Fifty feet above the floor [illegible] the [illegible] frieze [illegible] panels [illegible] square feet [illegible] originally was intended [illegible] the [illegible] circle [illegible] panels [illegible] American [illegible]

The [illegible] will be roughly [illegible] feet [illegible] it may seem awful [illegible] measure by the feet but in square [illegible] that [illegible] 274 feet of [illegible] have been done [illegible] feet remain blank

The [illegible] committee [illegible] to [illegible] space filled [illegible] appropriately

It won't be easy as it sounds

The 24 feet of finished paintings include 17 American historical events and the [illegible] the discovery of gold in California in 1848

By skimping into the remaining 26 feet [illegible] to accommodate two additional pictures—that is [illegible] since the last 7th or 8th years—but certainly not more than two

Now what were the two outstanding events in American history since 1848? [illegible] not [illegible] that the committee [illegible] to take into consideration the Civil the Spanish American and the World Wars

Clearly [illegible] pictures are not enough to [illegible]

THE truth is that the early painters were extremely too wasteful with space in their frieze They ought to have left room for more room Apparently they had a notion that history was going to end about 1850 at the latest

They started with Columbus landing which is all right

No fault can be found with the Mayflower arriving at Plymouth Rock

The [illegible] of the Declaration of Independence was when [illegible] the Battle of Lexington was over [illegible] the Revolutionary soldiers and [illegible] our frontiersmen [illegible]

The Mexican War [illegible] to be noticed so the capture of Chapultepec can't be [illegible]

But [illegible] plenty more important happenings in recent years than

Either leaving down the law to Montezuma Pilgrim [illegible] Declaration of Rights the [illegible] Louisiana Purchase the settlement of the Plymouth colony Penn's treaty with the Indians Governor Oglethorpe making peace with the Georgians Fremont [illegible] and [illegible] the Star-Spangled Banner

I [illegible] to [illegible] great [illegible] over in the [illegible] of the [illegible] to [illegible] of the [illegible]

PAINT [illegible] with [illegible] [illegible] all [illegible] half [illegible] to [illegible] and [illegible]

Observe the [illegible] the [illegible] will [illegible] in less than [illegible]

It would be a pity [illegible] to [illegible] hard to keep what the [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] 150 or thereabouts [illegible] some of today

BECKHAM NAMED

Heads Democratic Ticket in Kentucky Sampson Republican Nominee

Louisville Ky Aug 8—J C W Beckham former governor and former United States senator from Kentucky emerged from the political [illegible] running from 5th district [illegible] by the latter office by defeating R T Crow of La Grange for the Democratic nomination for governor [illegible] from Saturday's primary election [illegible] today

Full official returns from all but [illegible] counties gave Beckham 141,290 votes to 105,109 Crow has conceded the nomination of Beckham

In the Republican primary [illegible] from two thirds of the counties [illegible] D S [illegible] Louisville [illegible] for the nomination for governor [illegible] of 21,000 votes over Rogers H Lewis of Louisville out of approximately 1,250,000 votes [illegible]

Beckham [illegible] of the party [illegible] to crack [illegible] in Kentucky opposed race track betting in his campaign however and was supported by the so called reform element

National Parade Called

If the second legal battle—that in Dedham this afternoon—is lost and no more arguments are left in the state courts Attorney Hill will carry the case to a justice of the United States Supreme Court.

While final and desperate efforts in the state courts to save Sacco and Vanzetti from the electric chair were under way the defense committee sent out a call for a national parade in Boston in the interest of the two men and a death watch at the state house and state prison the night they are executed.

While the legal run was on in the state courts Gov Alvan T Fuller at the state house had under consideration a defense petition for another stay of execution. Following his review the next executive had decided Sacco and Vanzetti guilty and had refused to intervene.

WATCH BOSTON HOME IN SLOWAY BOMBINGS

New York Aug 8—New York and Boston police maintained a sharp watch on the Boston home of a man known to be a Sacco and Vanzetti sympathizer whose sedan was seen speeding away from the scene of the second subway bombing here in Friday night.

He has not returned to his home since the raid started. When apprehended he will be questioned closely regarding the presence of his car at the bombing.

These developments in the subway bombing regarded by the police as the most important since the double blast sent terror through the city were disclosed today when it was found that Detective Christopher Kelley of the bomb squad had been sent to Boston to cooperate with Boston police in finding and questioning the man.

A young recruit policeman saw the sedan with the Massachusetts license speeding north on Fourth ave just after the bombing of the interborough station at Fourth ave and Twenty Eighth st. He noted the license number and the fact that there were a number of swarthy faced men in the car. But he did not attach great importance to his discovery and did not report it for several hours.

When he did report it Inspector Coughlin and Captain Reynolds of the bomb squad immediately dispatched Detective Kelley to Boston.

The car was found to belong to a known sympathizer with the condemned radicals Sacco and Vanzetti. It was the first development indicating a possible connection between the bombings and other outbreaks believed to have been demonstrations for the condemned men.

The entire city force of policemen mobilized at maximum strength is not only bending every energy to run down the bombers but is exercising the utmost vigilance to prevent any further violence.

A special squad of 14 motorcycle policemen has been detailed for emergency duty to rush to any district where disorders are threatened. Two armored cars are held in readiness for instant service. Even during the World War the precautions taken were no more vigorous than those being exercised today.

A call for a one-day strike tomorrow of approximately 500,000 workers as a protest against the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti went forth today.

Strikers Mass Meeting

The strike call was issued by the Socialist party the I W W the Sacco Vanzetti emergency committee, which is largely communistic and by agents of trade unions. The strikers were urged to attend a mass meeting Tuesday in Union Square.

In calling a strike the Socialist party said the trade unions represented three fourths of that they represented approximately 500,000 workers. They decided after a meeting with I W W and communist organizations which have as their calls for protest strikes.

The Sacco Vanzetti emergency committee said that 10,000 marine transport workers would walk out.

ITALY MIGHT BAR FAIR IF U S FREED THEM

London Aug 8—The worldwide Sacco Vanzetti demonstrations together with reports of bomb outrages in America continued today to be widely featured in the London newspapers with many papers editorially condemning the American community for their violence.

While the authorities generally do not fear any anti American violence in London the watchfulness of the police is not being relaxed.

According to reports circulated in Rome it is doubtful if Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti would be allowed to enter Italy even if they should regain their liberty in the United States and be deported from that country and again the Central News dispatch from Rome today. The Italian government is closely watching the situation created in the United States in the case but it is stated officially that the government is not interested in the fate of the two condemned radicals and will make no representations to the United States in their behalf the Central News telegram added.

A special guard was maintained today over the United States Embassy Building as the result of communist threats over the impending execution of Sacco and Vanzetti.

SWEDISH SOCIALISTS IN DEMONSTRATION

Stockholm Aug 8—Swedish socialists and communists conducted a demonstration here today protesting against the affirmation of Sacco and Vanzetti's death sentence by Governor Fuller of Massachusetts. The government has provided extra safeguards for the United States Embassy Building here and for consulate buildings throughout the kingdom.

VANZETTIS SISTER IN PARIS PARADE

Paris Aug 8—Radical newspapers today renewed their attack against the American judicial authorities and Governor Fuller of Massachusetts for the death sentences imposed upon Sacco and Vanzetti. About 10,000 Sacco Vanzetti sympathizers paraded on Sunday carrying red flags and singing communist songs. Vanzetti's sister carried a red flag.

The general 24 hour strike organized by the communists as a protest against the death sentences imposed upon Sacco and Vanzetti failed. About half of the taxicab drivers and a majority of the building trades workers quit but other wise conditions were normal.

NO HOSTILE ACTS IN BERLIN

Berlin Aug 8—While no hostile demonstration was made here the United States Embassy today continued to receive scores of letters and telegram protesting against the forthcoming execution of Sacco and Vanzetti.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Serious Danger to Middle Aged Women

Only women can appreciate what many women suffer as they pass through the changing period of life. Blinding hot flashes with spells of fainting and weakness intense nervousness, racking head pains and dizziness. These are symptoms which must be watched for they often indicate high blood pressure. So many times high blood pressure results seriously that it is usually dangerous to neglect it.

A licensed physician who made a study of high blood pressure developed a remedy of purely vegetable ingredients which generally relieves it. This proved so successful that it now is being sold at drug stores under the name of Norma.

As high blood pressure is a manifestation of some disorder of abnormality of the system it is advisable to discover the cause and correct it by other medicines or hygienic measures while taking Norma. Although Norma is not a treatment for the causes of high blood pressure it usually gives welcome relief and a fine feeling of comfort and well being. If you have high blood pressure start taking Norma at once and give it a chance to help you. Get Norma today at Bradley's Drug Store, Benner & Cooper or any other good drug store.—Adv

Primary Election Tuesday

Tuesday is primary election day. Polls will be open from 6:30 o'clock in the morning until 6:30 o'clock in the evening.

Both parties have candidates for mayor, auditor, treasurer, solicitor, councilmen at large and ward councilmen. In addition the Democrats have candidates for city committee and the Republicans have candidates for ward committee.

The Democratic primary is the more important, both candidates for the mayoralty nominations are unopposed. Marcy Earl Hazen is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket and W H Hoberman has the field to himself on the Democratic side.

Political predictions like weather forecasts often go wrong and the vote Tuesday may exceed expectations. One factor which may add to the Democratic vote is a movement started by the party organization to fill vacancies on the ticket.

When the time for filing declarations of candidacy came to a close several weeks ago no Democrats were entered for several of the offices. Party leaders have recruited candidates for these places and their names must be written on the ballots in order to qualify them for the November election. Democratic workers are carrying on a campaign to bring out many voters who might otherwise stay away from the polls.

Late Candidates

These candidates will be nominated if eight per cent of the Democrats voting tomorrow write their names on the ballots.

Candidates for the vacancies are as follows:

City auditor A E Spires, 273 Uncapher st.

Councilman at large Edward Sexton, 211 E Georgesst and Elmer Salter, 285 Marion av.

Ward councilman Third J A Hill for 505 Davids st Fifth, J M. Schneider 331 S Seventh st and William Swafford 331 Summit st.

The three contests which serve as another attraction to draw voters to the polls are for the Republican council's large nominations and for nominations on both sides in the Fourth ward.

Council Races

Entrants in the Republican race for councilman at large are Ralph Good R L Prettyman and A H Williams all candidates for re-election, and William A Shuster a newcomer in the field.

Grant Haldeman and E. G. Roberts are competing for the Republican council nomination in the Fourth ward and John Butterfield and Charles L. Miller seek the Democratic nomination.

All preliminaries for the primary have been completed at the office of the board of elections. Precinct officials will receive their supplies at the board's office tonight after meeting at their respective voting places at 7 o'clock and electing presiding judges.

Polls will open at 6:30 o'clock Tuesday morning and close at 6:30 o'clock at night.

DENIES SCHOOL PLANS ARE TO BE ABANDONED

Head of Meeker Soliciting Group Says Committee Still at Work

To open the school in September when other schools of the county are opened or not to open appears a well debated question in the Meeker school district. In a statement made several days ago by a member of the board of the district announcement was made that the plan to solicit funds by popular subscription to maintain the school until the Mack settlement fell been abandoned and the school would not open until the first of January.

Judgment over has a warrant A A Parish chairman of the committee appointed to solicit funds today declared the plan had not been given up and that the work of soliciting funds would continue up until the time for the school to open. He was to committal as to the prospects of obtaining the money by subscription but gave as his opinion based on information given his committee by I I Cliffe state director of education that should the plan fail no one will be learned from the board of county commissioners with which to finance the school until December when the money could be returned to the commissioners from funds received from the three mill levy which will be voted on in the district this fall.

Would Levy Claim

In the event the levy should fail to pass the state director of education according to Mr Parish has agreed to exercise authority invested in him by virtue of his office and declare the levy to be in existence for one year.

He also agreed according to Mr Parish to see that the levy was placed on the duplicate for collection in December at which time one half of the amount created by the levy could be obtained the remaining half to be collected at the March settlement.

County commissioners however take another view of the matter. When questioned this morning they were emphatic in their statement that no money could be loaned to the Meeker school board. "There is no fund at the present time from which the money could be loaned they say.

The direct pull here to be voted on this fall by the residents of the Meeker district will be for a period of one year only Mr Parish said this morning.

Isn't that "flower of young womanhood" open to question?

Terrorism Defeats Its Purpose.

Communist violence and demonstrations in this and other lands may have a contrary effect, but, as we see it, they but serve to make more certain the execution of Sacco and Vanzetti, under sentence to be electrocuted this week in the state prison in Charlestown, Massachusetts, for the ruthless murder of a factory paymaster and a guard at South Braintree, seven years ago.

Without going into the merits of the case, regardless of whether Sacco and Vanzetti may be innocent or guilty, we can not see how their chances for escaping the electric chair are in any way bettered by such acts of violence as were committed in a number of eastern cities last week, in what is generally held to have been an attempt to bring about a reign of terrorism.

We can see, however, how the demonstrations at home and abroad will have a tendency to solidify public sentiment against the two condemned men. We can see how they are bound to cause resentment. We can see how the average man will be inclined to say to himself: We might just as well find out now as later, whether our courts are to decide matters of the guilt or innocence of accused murderers, or they are to be decided by demonstrations of communists here and abroad; whether due process or law is to prevail or terrorism.

Even in the face of the fact that the accused are reported to have said that they are proud "to die for anarchy," their execution, if innocent, would be a tragedy; but it also would be a tragedy were recognition given the idea that criminals may escape the law because they do not believe in any law; it would be a tragedy were it made evident that law and authority can be terrorized and rendered supine by acts of individual or mass violence.

It is this view which the average man will be inclined to take as a result of attempted terrorism. It is for this reason that we feel that those committing acts of violence for the purpose of intimidation are prejudicing the cause of Sacco and Vanzetti.

Man, Soldier and Patriot.

When Major General Leonard Wood passed from life in a Boston hospital at an early hour Sunday morning, the country lost one of its foremost figures. General Wood was a great man, great among the country's great. He was notable in any group in which he might be found, either here at home or abroad. He was great bodily, great of heart and spirit, great in courage and daring, great in his determination and his perseverance and his thoroughness. He was great in his knowledge of soldiering, great in his administrative ability, great in his accomplishments and great in his sturdy patriotism. By whatever standard we may measure his achievements, we find them meeting the test.

The general's death followed an operation, the day before, for an ailment which was a recurrence of the trouble for which he had undergone an operation seventeen years before—a tumor on the brain. It was recognized as an ultra dangerous operation, but he submitted himself to it with the dauntless courage which marked his entire life.

General Wood's career was one which would have been held impossible had it been portrayed in fiction, a record unique among all those of his countrymen, both living and dead. No one could have been less spectacular at heart, yet his life was both spectacular and picturesque.

An army assistant contract surgeon back in the early eighties under Miles, he was selected and led the expedition which captured the wily and unspeakably cruel Geronimo and his band, the most ruthless Indian tribe of all America, for which he was made a captain and received the Congressional Medal of Honor. He became the friend and confident of three presidents and the appointee of four, serving all of them faithfully and well. While the White House physician under President McKinley, he was selected to head the Roosevelt Rough Riders, raised by Roosevelt, then assistant secretary of the navy, Roosevelt acting as second in command. Promoted to brigadier general of volunteers, he was soon after made military governor of Santiago, where was given him his first opportunity to show his marked administrative ability, with rank of major general of volunteers, and finally became military governor of the island of Cuba. When Roosevelt became president, Wood was made a brigadier general in the regular army. He brought order out of chaos in Cuba, served a time as military governor of Moro province in the Philippines, attended European army maneuvers as the official observer of the United States, was sent to Argentina as our special envoy, worked out the plan of the army general staff under Secretary of War Elihu Root, served as commander of the Eastern department of the army, his rank then being that of major general, and when the law was enacted creating the general staff he became its first chief. From an army assistant contract surgeon to chief of the general staff, a transition which congress by legislative enactment has since made impossible of duplication.

It was while chief of staff that General Wood laid the groundwork upon which the government placed its chief reliance in the war preparations in 1917. Like Colonel Roosevelt, he was denied the privilege of commanding troops in action in the World war, but he prepared them for the front, and the military training camps which he had fathered became of inestimable benefit then.

General Wood was the leading candidate for the Republican nomination for president in 1920, but the bitterness of the fight between his followers and those of Lowden made the selection of either impossible and Harding became the nominee. The Philippine problem was a pressing one at the time President Harding began his administration and he chose Wood as the best qualified man in the country to meet it, naming him as governor general, which position General Wood ably filled, retrieving the islands from conditions of administration which were simply intolerable and repeating the administrative success he had previously achieved in Cuba.

Such, in short term, is the public life record of Major General Leonard Wood, governor general of the Philippines, whose passing is sincerely mourned—man, gentleman, soldier, executive and patriot.

Looking back over that disarmament gathering that didn't disarm, perhaps the most striking phase of it was the spectacle of Japan trying to talk the two great English-speaking nations into agreement.

We glean from the Florida Gator that with 4,000,000 people, less than 80,000 of them white, there are but 700 passenger automobiles in Angola, West Africa. It would be interesting to know the ratio of watermelons.

"Specs" Russell, the youthful gangster who has been holding up store-keepers in the outlying districts of Cleveland has acquired a lot of so-called fame, but he will have to pay for it heavily. He is behind the bars at last, and will likely get the stiffest sentence provided by law. There's no line in the criminal game which pays. Even the so-called "glory" which may appeal to youth is fleeting. Mighty little publicity is given to the youthful prisoner serving time behind the bars.

But when all is said, any publisher should realize that "Uncle Henry" Ford's plan of not reading his publication is not wholly without merit. It may necessitate an occasional apology, but it saves a lot of annoyance and worry.

Having made up his mind that he has had enough of the presidency, if that is what "I do not choose to run for president in 1928" means, the next two years of his administration should prove pleasing to him and decidedly interesting to the public. It will be something of a novelty to observe a president occupying the chair and acting absolutely without fear and without favor influenced by political fear.

Chicago has decided not to hold her proposed big fair six years hence, possibly figuring that between the big fight and her mayor, "Big Bill" Thompson, she will get advertising enough—such as it is.

Advice to Bilious Persons.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

Living is largely a chemical process. We would not last without food, and digestion is founded on chemistry. In a sense, the body is a chemical laboratory, performing wonderful transformations. It makes available for our happiness, repair and growth, the foodstuffs which, without the chemical changes, would be as worthless as splinters of wood and chips of marble.

The liver is the largest gland in the body. It is the seat of one of our most important chemical laboratories. It helps us to live on and enjoy life. Year in and year out it is our uncomplaining servant.

You should never be conscious of your organs. So long as they do their work normally and are in good health they do nothing to attract your attention. It is when they get congested and inflamed or are overworked that they protest.

In the case of the liver, when it gets out of order, the victim has what we used to call "biliousness." I don't need to enlarge on this ailment. Unfortunately each of us has an occasional attack. We aren't much good when we are "bilious." We are plagued by the headache, dizziness, indigestion, tired feeling and sense of uselessness.

The liver and gall-bladder are close neighbors and really are hardly more than separate members of the same partnership. On this account, in discussing the liver, we may well deal with the whole region. It is unnecessary to consider the various theories about this group of organs. It is enough to say that, among other functions, the preparation and supply of the bile is an important contribution to the welfare of the body.

There is a popular notion that the digestion of the food we eat is completed in the stomach. Nothing could be further from the truth. The food is finely divided and prepared in the stomach, but it is after leaving this organ that, to a great extent, it is made ready for absorption and use by the system.

The oily, fatty foods we take are not disposed of until the bile does its work. This fluid is poured into the intestinal tract, where by its chemical action it breaks up and dissolves the fats.

The liver has another function. We are apt to eat a surplus of fats, sugars and starches. The liver serves as a storehouse to keep these chemically created and transformed foodstuffs until there comes a time of need for them.

Persons of a "bilious temperament," or what they call in England the "biliary nature," should be extremely careful of what they eat and how they live. Pastries, candy, butter and rich sauces are to be avoided, or used temperately eaten. Constipation should be overcome by simple living and an abundance of exercise.

Don't abuse one of the most important friends you have. The liver should be well treated.

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

E. L. Q.—I am forty-six years of age, high strung, but health good. Drink five or six glasses of water at a time and perspire profusely. So much so that it drops from the face and the clothing is saturated. What would this indicate?

A.—Nervousness is often responsible for excessive perspiration. Have your doctor examine you and in this way get at the source of your trouble. Probably you drink too much water.—Copyright, 1927.

LIBERIA PAYS ITS DEBTS.

The Republic of Liberia has paid to the United States its war debt of $35,610.46. The payment was made by the consul general to the United States from Liberia, Dr. Ernest Lyon, whose office is in Baltimore.

In balancing the account Dr. Lyon said that at the beginning of the war Liberia had no grievance against the Central powers, but when the United States severed diplomatic relations with the Imperial German government "Liberia followed the example of her good and great friend." He added that "in the struggle she—Liberia—supplied marines from her seaport population, which made maritime communication possible up and down the West coast of Africa after Europeans had withdrawn in response to the call of their respective nationalities.

"Her men served as links of communication on the battlefield, rendering such other service as brought down upon her national pate the ire of a German submarine because the president of the republic refused at the bidding of the commander to authorize the destruction of the wireless stations and useful institutions in the service of the allies."

Dr. Lyon said that Liberia is entering upon a prosperous career, that her economic conditions have been wonderfully improved and that the opening of the country to American capitalists marks a new day for the people of Liberia. We can imagine that many residents of the United States forget this elderly republic now and then.

Because of its climate it is not a country frequently visited by tourists. It has a coast line of 350 miles and extends inland, in theory, about 200 miles, but the first twenty-five include all the civilized settlements. It has one improved highway twenty miles long. But let us not lose sight of the fact that it has paid its debt without grumbling.—Hartford Courant.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR LOCUSTS.

The Science news service calls attention to the fact that 1927 is the year when seventeen-year locusts should put in their appearance. This announcement, however, carries no panic implications. Interest in it is chiefly historical for a middle-western public, thus reminded of the "grasshopper plagues" of pioneer years.

In the first place, the insect improperly called seventeen-year locust appears in not one uniform cycle, but many. Thus, in one section the seventeen-year period would call for a reappearance in one year, while in another section the visitation would come at a quite different time. Somewhere a brood appears every year, each brood however having the seventeen-year periodicity. This cicada is the longest-lived of known insects. Normally it spends something over sixteen years in the ground. Its period sometimes is fifteen years, sometimes eighteen, in this there are early and late arrivals.

Partly because of the different broods, partly because of the three-year spread in a particular brood, history of the cicada periods is confused to all save those who have given it special attention. The first historical appearance was in 1633, and 1927 misses by two years an even number of seventeen-year periods since then. In Iowa the grasshopper plagues which obscured the sun, devoured crops and caused many settlers to abandon their farms were noteworthy in 1867, 1873 and 1876. Only 1878 coincides with a seventeen-year period for this year, and there has been no important recurrence in the fifty-one-year interval.—Des Moines Register.

Vagrant Verse.

MAPLE.

If you had never known a graceful tree
And only viewed it as it lifts up now,
Gaunt, awkward, grim in cold rigidity,
Bud branches snapped by gales from every bough,
Could you believe if one should point and say,
That is a thing worth journeys to be seen
When it is rich in foliage in May?
It is stunning then as a young queen
Who trails her lovely flowing lacy gown
In rustling folds along a sapphire room,
And in its lowercoming tenderness drawns down
Bright birds to nestle in its sheltering bloom.
All through enchanting summer days they sing
Sweet tribute for the lulling, swaying thing.

The Way of the World.

The little lad who must occupy the stormy throne of Roumania wonders what it's all about. In these upset days of Europe, seemingly wise diplomats do not know what it is all about. Needless to say, the lad will have a lot of bad advice. He will have many bosses, and things will be in a mess. Carol, once crown prince, says he will stay in private life. A graduate of a fashionable girls' school near Cleveland is sent to the reformatory after being caught in a liquor raid. The police wouldn't even let her kiss her lover good-bye. In search of happiness—like all of us—this girl took the wrong turn. Somebody, somewhere, at home or at school, failed her. She might have been told. She might have been made to see. She is the victim of neglect.

Neglect is not merely negative. Sometimes it is a positive crime.

And yet Peter Hesiln was partly right. All who go to the electric chair or the gallows, all who go to prison, are victims of a frame-up. The forces of evil are constantly on the job—pulling and hauling and framing. We are never out of temptation. We are constantly up against the necessity of making decisions. There is a "frame-up" always ready for us.

And character is made out of a multitude of right decisions—many of them very little decisions.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. McINTYRE.

New York, Aug. 8.—Diary of a society Pepys: Up betimes and met Eddie Cantor along the avenue whistling like a schoolboy on vacation and stopped to talk to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mack, who seem to be always traveling here and there and enjoying life to the fullest measure.

For breakfast a cup of coffee, the first in four months, and found no taste for it sweet. Home and Dr. C. Ible and Dorothy there and much talk of this and that. Then to my mail, mostly bills and one bore quite a tart warning which I heeded promptly.

In the evening to dine with Gene Crawley, Joe A. Moore and their wives and talked with Billy DeBeck, the cartoonist, who was dining with as fair a lady as ever I saw. So home to bed.

In every cafe there is a sprinkling of men who dine alone. They make a ritual of dining, carefully inspecting menus, balancing values and heeding the culinary suggestions of the waiter captains. They come freshly barbered and dressed as though attending a court function. They eat slowly, look over the crowds casually and are not at all interested in the casual flirtations of many lone diners. One sees the same men drifting from cafe to cafe nightly month after month and making a daily event of dinner.

We hear much of the reckless living rich. At a huge table the granddaughter of one of America's richest men was entertaining a dinner party. All were young save for an elderly gray-haired lady acting as chaperone, who was incidentally given extremely considerate attention. Three of the eight girls wore long hair and only one smoked at the table. The young men were not those wearing the correct dinner tie of the month or the one stud shirt bosom. No liquor was served nor did they essay hip-shaking steps in after-dinner dancing. They were first to leave.

At another table sat a man who came up from the ranks of workers to a position of power, but long ago lost sympathy with the working class in attempting to pyramid a fortune in stock manipulation. Recently his seat among the mighty has been shady. Newspapers have pilloried him. And like most weak men he was trying to escape the reality of an emotional crisis in the usual way. He was drunk.

Nothing so disturbs a cafe as a row in the kitchen. It upsets the entire morale and thus spreads to guests by the disrupted service. A cafe kitchen employe who engages in an altercation knows his job has ended—no matter the provocation. A head waiter tells of a French man who permitted another employe to slap him in the face seven times. He offered no resistance until through work. Then he waited near the employe's exit and gave his tormentor a beating that sent him to the hospital for two weeks.

It wouldn't surprise many to see a magic lantern show click on Broadway. This summer one of those shadowgraph artists packed a pop-eyed crowd nightly in a store-room by reflecting animal shadows on a curtain with his hands.

And a street hawker on Tenth avenue sells crowns to slip over teeth at ten cents a crown. There's gold in them mountings!

The other evening at a club arose a discussion of a man who has always been poor, but popular. In the last few years he has been deservedly and extraordinarily successful. The discussion had a critical tone—tinged with a slight venom. There is after all a blessing to failure. There is no jealousy.

Views of Those in Public Eye.

BERNARD M. BARUCH.

Bernard Mannes Baruch, banker and economist of New York City, was graduated from the City college, of New York, in 1889. He has been a member of the New York stock exchange for many years. In 1916 Baruch was appointed by President Wilson as a member of the advisory commission of the council of national defense. He was made chairman of the committee on raw material, metals and minerals and also commissioner in charge of war materials for the War Industries board, besides numerous other war activities. Baruch served as economic adviser for the American peace commission.

Baruch sees a big financial problem ahead in Germany. He expresses his views thus:

"The reparations from Germany in 1926 and 1929 will begin to assume big proportions. At the same time there will be the question of interest to be paid by German industries on borrowed capital.

"The question the world is faced with at that time will be: Shall the reparations have precedence in the transfer of actual money from Germany, or the interest on loans made abroad for German industries. The interest on private loans can not be transferred unless the Dawes commission consents.

"I can not but believe that this situation, evidently not taken into account with the formation of the Dawes commission, will call for the complete revision of the program of that commission, and will force the making of a definite figure to be paid by Germany. Certainly it is a question which is now occupying the attention of European financiers. I have heard much of it while abroad."

Dinner Stories.

Jerry is a tailor who takes his vacation whenever the spirit moves him, regardless of their effect upon his business. Being told by a friend that he should have some excuse to give to customers when he locks up his shop, he had this sign made which he now places on the front door when he is absent:

"This shop closed. I am sick, out of town, attending a funeral, gone to a convention, fishing."

They were on their way home from the football game. He broke the silence by remarking, sadly:

"Well, too bad we lost the game."

"Isn't it?" agreed the girl. "But never mind, Bob; we had the best looking cheer leaders."

"There are two sides to every question," proclaimed the wise man.

"Yes," said the fool, "and there are two sides to a sheet of flypaper, but it makes a difference to the fly which side he chooses."

A woman went to see her negro cook, who was in bed. She gave the cook's small son, Ephraim, a dollar with which to buy a chicken for his mother. In leaving she overheard the cook say:

"Gimme dat dollar, chile, an' go fin' de chicken in the natchral way."

A misogynist said to a woman: "All this feminism is sheer nonsense. There isn't a woman alive who wouldn't rather be ravished than intelligent."

"That," said the woman, "is because most men are stupid and so few blind."

Youth Arrested in Attempt to Sell Stolen Automobile

Being greeted by the police when he expected money as a reward for his efforts was the inexperienced experience of Seaver Curtis 21 of near Latham when he was arrested at a local used car sales room by the police at 1:30 Sunday morning on a charge of stealing an automobile.

Early Saturday night the manager of the sales room received a telephone call from a man at Mt Gilead in the effect that he would bring a stolen car to the place of business between 11:30 and 1:30 a.m. which he would sell him cheap. The used car man agreed to issue the car and immediately after the conversation notified police.

Police Hide

Police Captain Mosdell and Patrolman Shrock were in the used car sales room about 11 o'clock and secreted themselves. At 1:30 a young man driving a new Ford roadster appeared at the rear door. As he stepped from the car he was placed under arrest.

Overcome by being placed under arrest Curtis slipped a few minutes later. He recaptured in a few minutes and was taken to police headquarters. When notified of the capture of the thief Mt Gilead authorities said they had just been notified of the theft of the car.

Curtis was taken back to Mt Gilead by officers this morning.

Why should your John be afraid to flirt with me? Do I look so formidable?

[illegible] on with the story

CHAPTER XVI

[illegible] thought Vee-Vee [illegible] the life of them—Banister Nan Fosdick [illegible] herself—emerged [illegible] runway from the [illegible]

[illegible] her plump little hands. I am [illegible] swim a all—out dog fashion [illegible] says I am a [illegible] Well let her [illegible] champion swimmers show off while we have a nice rest good time John for goodness sake don't [illegible] Swim. That's what you came here for. Miss Cameron and I are [illegible] to talk about haven't we [illegible]

Vee-Vee standing beside Mrs. Bannister on the float smiled [illegible] at Schuyler Smythe [illegible] pleading face toward her before executing a neat racing dive [illegible] the clear blue waters of the lake. Nan Fosdick had dived from the diving [illegible] beautiful swan dive that Ravole copied the water. She struck out with a powerful crawl stroke showing a [illegible] challenge to Schuyler Smythe as she left [illegible]

Obediently John Bannister struck out into the lake making no effort to follow the racers. A group of girl swimmers their rubber capped heads bobbing like bright colored toy balloons hailed him, welcomed him and upon him and ducked him with loud shouts of laughter.

"John, are you flirting with Mrs. Bannister?" said [illegible] laughingly. "Shame on you. Mr. [illegible] champion swimmer [illegible] explained [illegible] swum the channel if [illegible] him [illegible] vised slim and graceful [illegible] mph on the edge of the [illegible] the float was attached [illegible] plump girl [illegible] ers. Even [illegible] about [illegible] years ago. She [illegible] mistaken. After [illegible] and Mrs. BANNIS [illegible] ers to join them for [illegible] Mrs. Bannister [illegible] and NAN FOS [illegible] athletic girl are on [illegible] and so [illegible] malic [illegible] [illegible] Swathe me kissing

"Are you afraid to come in, Mr. Banister?" Miss Cameron. "You haven't met her properly. You will. She's somehow [illegible] person—new which I know is [illegible] as they come. A [illegible] married woman who has his [illegible] purpose in life [illegible] marry [illegible] eligible to a society man. She makes [illegible] rounds of [illegible] season [illegible] season [illegible] ing of that great horrible girl around with her and [illegible] ing to force her [illegible] the throat of some scion of an old family that is [illegible] and could do with a little gold plating. I've seen them before, and this is the first time [illegible] girl has really had an [illegible] it is luck [illegible] she added a gentle [illegible]

But before Vee-Vee could question her there came a musical halloo across the water and she looked up to see Schuyler Smythe [illegible] at her as he swam rapidly toward her. Nan Fosdick had set the [illegible] one of the splashing groups of swimmers who were having their [illegible] in the cool of the evening that is impossible when youngsters get in a bathing suit.

"Come on in. You're not wearing your bathing suit. Smythe shouted to her as he drew [illegible] to the float. He stood near [illegible] paddling [illegible] dog face [illegible] with [illegible] and the joy of [illegible] being. When he stopped she gave him her hands, sprang to her feet stood beside him [illegible] a [illegible] triumphant surge of [illegible] through her entire body.

In the [illegible] intimate moment while he still held her hands and before he dragged her off the float with him to [illegible] her bathing suit as he called her she looked at him swiftly and found his breath [illegible] perfect. There was no boredom in the [illegible] glowing brown depths of his eyes now. His body was lean but not thin, broad at the shoulders flat and [illegible] at the waist and hips. His thighs and legs, exposed by his very brief black jersey bathing suit were very white, almost as slim and beautiful as her own.

She turned her eyes sharply away. I simply [illegible] him know that I think he is beautiful," she warned herself. "But oh he is, he is beautiful! Like a Greek god!"

She felt his strong slim brown hands on hers again, felt her fingers quiver in response as he dragged her into the water with him.

"I wish you didn't know how to swim," he told her in a low voice that vibrated along her nerves. "Then I'd have the infinite joy of teaching you."

"I can't swim—at all," well she smiled at him clinging to the rope that was [illegible] reached from float to float for the use of inexperienced swimmers. Then [illegible] using her own words the lie she had told her long slim white body on the surface of the water described a slow beautiful arc with her left arm and swam away from him.

They were climbing upon the float [illegible] which was designed for the more [illegible] when Nan Fosdick's powerful [illegible] came cleaving toward them through the blue clear water.

"Come on! You've had enough for today, have you," Schuyler Smythe demanded in a low voice. "I've got to talk to you. Nan will want to play about for an hour more. We can get dressed—you're shivering."

Without taking time to think Vee-Vee gave him her hand and they climbed up the swaying ladder from the float to the pier then ran gaily like two children naughty escaping into the glass covered runaway to the hotel. As they sped from the pier Schuyler [illegible] up his beach coat of green and white striped silk and his own dressing gown of purple and black [illegible] within the runaway they stopped panting a little smiling into each others eyes.

"You're cold, poor thing," he murmured huskily. "Let me wrap you up all snug in your coat. Pretty thing!" he added his hands [illegible] the bright striped silk but his eyes glowing into hers.

"My friends," Vee-Vee laughed but her voice betrayed her by trembling "call me Vee-Vee."

His hands tightened spasmodically on her shoulders drew her toward him. Laughing a little, but wondering what tale her green eyes were telling she held herself rigid despite of a passion she longing to fling herself upon his breast.

"Vee-Vee! That's—adorable! But it would have to be to suit you."

"Aren't you going to swim any more?" a strident, shrill young voice demanded and they whirled quickly to face Nan Fosdick—furious-eyed, tight lipped.

Schuyler Smythe declares his love in the next chapter, and Vee-Vee is beset by new fears.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mrs Annie Kwinski of 826 1st Avenue, Milwaukee Wis writes that she became so weak and run down that she was not able to do her housework. She saw the name Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the paper and said to her husband, "I will try that medicine and see if it will help me." She says she took six bottles and is feeling much better.

Mrs Mattie Adams who lives in Downing Street, Brewton, Ala., writes as follows: "A friend recommended Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and since taking it I feel like a different woman."

With her children grown up, the middle-aged woman finds time to do the things she never had time to do before—read the new books, see the new plays, enjoy her grandchildren, take an active part in church and civic affairs. Far from being pushed aside by the younger set, she finds a full, rich life of her own. That is, if her health is good.

Thousands of women just say, say they owe their health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
